Swimming - Final Reminders
This Wednesday the students commence their swimming program. Thank you to all parents for being prompt with their payments for this most important program.

Each time the students attend swimming they will need to be aware of the following:

- Wear sports uniform to school
- There will not be a Crunch n Sip break for the infant’s class as we will be having an early lunch break.
- Bring to school their swimmers in a strong bag. Do not use a plastic shopping bag. The enviro style bags are best.
- Bring a change of underwear
- Make sure all clothes and towels are labelled
- Do not send thongs

If parents are in Bathurst and need to pick up their child/ren they will be ready at 2.15pm otherwise it will be normal school bus times

Eisteddfod Poems
All of the students will be involved in the Bathurst Eisteddfod. For this they need to learn two poems. They have been attached so they can be learnt at home.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

Get up!
Get washed!
Eat your breakfast!
That's my mum,
Going on and on and on and on and on.

Sit down!
Be quiet!
Get on with your work!
That's my teacher,
Going on and on and on and on and on.

Come here!
Give me that!
Go away!
That's my big sister,
Going on and on and on and on.

Get off!
Stop it!
Carry me!
That's my little sister,
Going on and on and on and on.

Boss - boss - boss
They do it all day.
Sometimes I think I'll run away.
But I don't know
Where to go.

The only one who doesn't do it,
Is my Gran.
She says,
"Would you like to get washed?"
or
"Would you like to sit on this chair?"
And she listens to what I say
People say she spoils me and that she's old-fash
I think it's the others that spoil; - spoil every d:
And I wish more people were old-fashioned,
.............like my gran.

Friday Night in Finkle Street

On Friday night in Finkle Street,
When the fish shops start to fry,
Cats come out from all about
And lurk in the shadows nearby.

'Fish, fish, our favourite dish,'
You can hear them softly sigh.

In Finkle Street on Friday night,
Lots of people come to eat,
They lick their lips over fish and chips
As they wander down the street.

'Fish, fish, our favourite dish,'
Cry the cats, 'please leave us a treat.'

On Friday night in Finkle Street,
When the chimes of midnight ring,
A feast begins in the litter-bins
That the cats think fit for a king.

'Fish, fish, our favourite dish,'
You can hear them loudly sing.
